are very intelligent

Pigs have great personalities. They respond to their names, just like dogs and cats. They feel happiness, sadness, cold, heat, thirst, hunger, love, anger and excitement, just like us. Pigs like their freedom and feel very unhappy in small cages. They like to be able to walk around on the grass and soil and to feel the sunshine. Sometimes they roll in mud because they are clever enough to know mud protects their sensitive skin from sunburn. People who have known pigs say they have a great sense of humour.
